DUBLIN, June 4.—McCoan, M.P., in a letter to Freeman's Journal, concerning his withdrawal from the Parnellite party, says the aim of four or five gentlemen, who obliviously force Parnell's hand, have long been developed beyond the policy of honest land reform and federal home rule. He says he cannot continue to maintain even nominal relations with veiled communism and rebellion. He asserts there are other men in the party who think as he does, but they are cowed for fear of their seats in parliament.

PARIS, June 4.—At a meeting of the Suez Canal Company to-day the proposal of De Lesseps to examine into a project for the construction of a second canal across the isthmus was adopted unanimously. De Lesseps assured the meeting that the English directors were giving local assistance, and prophesied that another canal will be built.

PARIS, June 4.—While endeavoring to extinguish a fire in a chemical store here, one fireman was killed, and ten were severely wounded.

DUBLIN, June 4.—James Carey, and the other informers who testified at the trial of the Phœnix park murderers, have been notified that they must indicate places out of the country to which they wish to be sent. Carey protested that he would remain in Dublin, but the authorities pointed out that they would receive no police protection, and that under no condition would they be allowed to remain in Ireland.

LONDON, June 4.—The statement in a Paris dispatch that a duel with swords was fought on the Swiss frontier yesterday, between George Cassaganac and an old sergeant major, in which the former had his throat scratched, is denied.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 4.—Secret inquiry into the riot which occurred in the streets of St. Petersburg last Monday evening, shows that it was instigated by nihilists.

LONDON, June 5.—The summer meeting of the Ascot opened to-day. The gold vase, valued at 200 sovereigns, given by her Majesty, was won by J. Johnstone's Border Minstrel, Irvineo Hagroscope second, and Lord Roseberry's Bonny Jean third, six starters.

The bill to prevent corrupt practices at elections passed the second reading in the Commons last evening.

Lord Dufferin has been decorated with the grand cross of the Order of the Bath.

LONDON, June 5.—The race for the Prince of Wales' stakes for three-year-olds was won by Lord Falmouth's Galliard, who ran third in the race for the Derby; Duke of Hamilton's Ossian second, and Lord Bradford's Lascoon third.

BERLIN, June 5.—One hundred and forty-two soldiers at Posen were accidentally poisoned. The condition of the men is dangerous.

LONDON, June, 5.—In a recent debate in the House of Commons, Sir William Harcourt, Home Secretary, implied that Lord Rosebery, in the capacity of Under Secretary for the Home Department, was specially charged with Scotch interests merely as a temporary plan intended to propitiate Scotch members. This statement of the Home Secretary has offended Lord Rosebery, who, on entering the House of Lords, took a seat apart from his colleagues and evidently threatened to resign, and, it is asserted, has already written to Gladstone acquainting him with his intention. It is still hoped the matter will be settled.

DUBLIN, June 5.—Edward Harrington, editor of the Kerry Sentinel, and a printer of that paper were each sentenced to imprisonment for six months on account of the publication in the office of the Sentinel of a placard inviting persons to join the Invincibles and attend the meetings. They will appeal from their sentences. Two compositors on the paper pleaded guilty of assisting in the publication of the card and were each sentenced to two month.

ROME, June 5.—It is the intention of the Vatican to express thanks to Great Britain for aid extended to Catholic Missionaries in Soudan.

Advices received from Sierra Leone under date of May 24, state that fifty persons were roasted alive for witchcraft in Shebsa district.

PARIS, June 5.—Tzeng, the Chinese representative at Paris, London and St. Petersburg, and who represented China at the coronation of the Czar, has been interviewed at Moscow. He said that diplomatic relations between France and China would certainly cease if the former operated in Tonquin without having previously arranged matters with his Government.

BERLIN, June 5.—The North German Gazette denies that Bismarck has consulted judicial authority in relation to the dissolution of the Federal treaty, with a view of abolishing the Reichstag.

LONDON, June 5—A dispatch to the Standard from Sierra Leone states that King Kaffee Kilkalie, author of the late war in Ashantee, has been forcibly restored to his throne.

PARIS, June 5 — Official report from Tonquin in regard to recent hostilities near Hanoi, is that Capt. Riviere was killed while endeavoring to prevent the capture of a gun, and which was subsequently recovered. The French column rallied in good order; the wounded were carried back to Hanoi and the dead left behind. The enemy lost 113 men. The situation at Hanoi is reasuring. Two companies of troops started from Haiphong for Hanoi on 27th ult. The commander at Fort Namdick telegraphed that he is able to repel an attack.

POPULARITY.

Why they are popular. The reason that National Pills are so universally popular is because they are certain in their action, mild and painless in their operation, and never leave the bowels constipated. They are sugar-coated, and contain no mineral poison. (35)

DR. COOPER'S VEGETABLE LIVER-WORT AND KIDNEY CURE

Has no equal as a safe remedy for all diseases of the liver, kidneys and urinary organs. Over 250,000 bottles sold during 1882. Price $1 a bottle. MOORE & Co., sole agents. dw

A RAMARKABLE FACT.

It is a remarkable fact that W. A. Edgers, of Frankville, who was so far gone with liver and kidney complaint that his life was despaired of, was cured with four bottles of Burdock Blood Bitters. At one time he lay a fortnight without an operation of the bowels. (36)

SIMPLE, Safe and Effectual is the popular verdict on the merits of Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure. It was never known to fail in curing all diseases of the Kidneys. As your druggist for it. 1w

THIS IS RELIABLE.

R. N. Wheeler, Merchant, of Everton, was cured of a severe attack of inflammation of the lungs by Hagyard's Pectoral Balsam. This great throat and lung healer cures weak lungs, coughs, hoarseness, bronchitis, and all Pectoral complaints. (34)

NOT to avail yourself of a trial of Dr. Austin's Phosphatine means to continue suffering without limit, with none but yourself to blame, for everyone who has tested it in cases of nervous prostration, depleted system, goneness of the stomach headache, bronchitis, and all wasting diseases say, "Never before did anything act like it." For sale by all druggists. Price, $1. 6td1mw

L. P. FISHER, Advertising Agent, 21 Merchants Exchange, San Francisco, is authorised to receive advertisements for the columns of this paper.

THE PUBLIC ENEMY.

The few readers of the Standard must be amazed and disgusted at the extraordinary tone of his recent leading articles on the government policy. Scarcely ten days ago he went into a violent fit of hysterics over a dispatch which he professed to have received from Ottawa on the Settlement bill, and while reluctantly admitting that the Dominion government had agreed to grant $750,000 to the province in full discharge of all liability for railway construction, he proceeded to unsettle the minds of people resident on the Island by asserting that the sum was not intended to be applied to the construction of the Island railway, but was to be spent on roads, streets and bridges on the mainland. This outrageous falsehood was followed by the assertion that at the last minute there had been legislation on the matter at Ottawa and that the $750,000 could not, therefore, be applied to the purpose of Island railway construction. The groundless and ill-advised assertion of the wretched specimen of journalism to which we refer was exposed at the time in these columns; and that exposé is made still more effective by the remarks of Sir John Macdonald on the closing day of the session. Sir John then stated that the sum of $750,000 would be applied to the construction of the Island railway and to no other object, and that there would be no legislation this session on the new terms. This statement would be sufficient to cause an ordinary prevaricator to retire from the business and adopt a more respectable means of gaining a livelihood. But our contemporary is not an ordinary prevaricator. Long experience has made him an accomplished fibber, and in spite of the declaration of Sir John Macdonald and the testimony of the members who have just returned from Ottawa, he refuses to withdraw his assertions that the $750,000 is not to be applied to Island railway construction and that there was legislation on the subject on the last day of the session. We have heard of men who were credited with having "more cheek than an army mule;" but we never encountered a specimen of the animal before. Sir John said on this point—

"There were also some questions arising out of arrangements respecting lands in connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway and the question of the liability or supposed liability of the Dominion government to construct the Island railway. With regard to the last mentioned it was agreed that on getting a receipt in full for all the obligations of the Dominion respecting this railway, the Dominion should contribute the sum agreed to by the late government—$750,000."

Language could not well be more explicit. It is seen at a glance that the subsidy is intended for the Island railway and for no other purpose; yet the ex-organ refuses to retract the injurious statement that is calculated to unsettle the value of every man's real estate and cause almost a panic in business and financial circles. On the subject of legislation the Canadian premier said—

"It was to be regretted that a difference between the Act passed by the British Columbia government and the agreement which was made prevented the passing of a concurrent act by the Canadian Parliament during its present session, but he had no apprehension of a deadlock from this cause."

"He who runs may read" this language and understand that there was no legislation on the new terms. But still the constitutional prevaricator "holds the fort" against all comers and refuse to withdraw his disgraceful mis-statement. A few days ago the announcement was made through The Colonist that the mainland railway belt would be thrown open to settlement at $1 per acre in accordance with the terms of the Settlement bill. This statement was hotly disputed by the Standard which said that the lands were not open to settlement at any price and that even if they were they would not be sold lower than those of the Northwest—$2.50 an acre. What says Sir John on this point? Listen:

"It was the intention of the government to instruct Mr. Trutch to open a land office for the purpose of putting the land along the line of railway into the market and opening it up for settlement. It was part of the agreement that those lands should be placed in the market on liberal terms, and speaking approximately, he presumed they would be offered at the nominal price of one dollar per acre or thereabouts. As a great portion of those lands had been squatted upon, the Canadian government had also agreed that the settlers should have the right to all unimproved land at the ordinary price. There would be no obstruction to the settlement in consequence of the postponement of work on the island."

In the face of this declaration the hundreds of settlers who are pouring into the country with the object of taking up land on the railway belt are met on the very threshold of the province with the false statement that the lands will not be thrown open this year and that when they are thrown open—perhaps ten years hence—the rate at which they will be offered is $2.50 per acre. Is it any wonder that some of the new-comers on reading the articles of our contemporary appear half disposed to turn back and proceed no further than Victoria towards the goal of their hopes? Is it any wonder that business men hesitate to make investments or that the mainland real estate market is dull and flat when statements such as those to which we have referred are suffered to go unrebuked? Our contemporary's latest "discovery" is that the local government have been "ignored" at Ottawa and that their policy is a "fizzle." We have shown that on every point upon it up the Standard has professed to furnish information it has maliciously falsified the record, misled its readers and damaged the country. In a little while it will be seen that its impudent assertion that the government are "ignored" and their policy has "fizzled" is quite as baseless as the Public Enemy's previous declarations. But he will still be found persisting in his wickedness in spite of the most solemn official declarations of the Canada premier and others in a position to know the exact position of affairs. It is not unreasonable to hope that the publication of a few more articles of the character of which we complain will cause the Standard to be "ignored" by an indignant public.

ELIJAH'S MANTLE.

Lord Randolph's Article in the "Fortnightly.

DEPRESSED TONE OF HIS PAPER.

Lord Randolph Churchill contributes to the Fortnightly Review for May an article bearing the title—"Elijah's mantle; April 19th, 1883." The occasion of the article is the unveiling by Sir Stafford Northcote of the statue to Lord Beaconsfield; its object the indication of the line of policy which must be followed if the Conservative party is to be re-established in power, by the man, whoever he may be, upon whom the mantle of Elijah has descended. Through almost every sentence there runs a feeling of depression. "If Lord Beaconsfield's spirit could for a moment animate his statue"—these words strike the key-note of Lord Randolph's moralizings. No opportunity is lost of comparing the greatness of the departed leader with the weakness of the present leaders of the Conservative party. In particular, every chance is taken of making a thrust at Sir Stafford Northcote. The speech of Sir Stafford at the recent ceremony is made to strike back upon its author.

"It is curious and difficult of explanation that the three features of Lord Beaconsfield's career which his panegyrist singled out, 'force of character, genius, undaunted courage,' which one would have thought that a quarter of a century of constant association would have communicated, at any rate, to some extent, to Lord Beaconsfield's chief lieutenant, should be precisely the qualities which the greatest friends of Sir Stafford Northcote declare are conspicuous by their absence in the leader of the Opposition in the House of Commons. It is generally believed the other three features insisted upon by the orator, 'unwearying patience, perfect temper, and great magnanimity,' Sir Stafford Northcote possesses in perhaps superfluous abundance." Lord Salisbury also comes in for more especially on account of his remarks on the eve of the ceremony, when he condemned in forcible language "the temptation" which, he said, "was strong in many politicians to gain the victory by bringing into the lobby men whose principles were divergent, and whose combined forces therefore would not lead to any wholesome victory." This maxim is, Lord Randolph argues, completely at variance with the whole political life of Lord Beaconsfield. History is ransacked to show that Mr. Disraeli's most brilliant coups were effected by allying himself at the proper moment with men whose political views were repugnant to his own. It was by this means that in 1852 Lord John Russell, in 1857 and 1858 Lord Palmerston, in 1866 and in 1873 Mr. Gladstone, were put in a minority. That this policy has not been adopted by the Opposition is made matter of complaint:

"During the present Parliament, if Lord Beaconsfield's political wisdom had imbued his lieutenants, Mr. Gladstone's Government might have been placed in a minority more than once, with great consequent loss of virtue and honor to themselves. Nor would it have been in any way incumbent upon the Conservatives to have taken advantage of any defeat of Mr. Gladstone by grasping at office themselves. To have weakened and discredited the Liberal majority, by hostile divisions and repeated attacks, would not only have been fair, but in my opinion was imperative, in dealing with a Government who had obtained office by methods more unscrupulous than were ever yet resorted to by English politicians."

Lord Randolph sums up the real moral of Mr. Disraeli's long series of parliamentary tactics as follows:

"Take office only when it suits you, but put the Government in a minority whenever you can decently. * * * Whenever, by an unfortunate concurrence of circumstances, an Opposition is compelled to support the Government, the support should be given with a kick, and not with a caress, and should be withdrawn at the first available moment"—and this policy, Lord Randolph thinks, Lord Salisbury probably appreciates, notwithstanding his recent utterances, though deeming it inexpedient to proclaim it.

The "Dual Control," as the joint leadership of Lord Salisbury and Sir Stafford Northcote is contemptuously called, receives uncompromising condemnation. Lord Randolph is of opinion that when the Conservatives are in Opposition it is then of the greatest advantage that the leader of the party be a member of the House of Lords.

A TORY MINORITY

in the House of Commons is, unless assisted by the Irish or by the Whigs, perfectly impotent. It is to the House of Lords that, at such a time, the Conservatives of the country look for the maintenance of their principles, for the rejection or modification of existing legislation, and for the effective control of a Government aiming at great constitutional changes.

"The large Tory majority in the Upper House, well and wisely handled by a statesman, possessing the full confidence of the entire party in and out of Parliament, can fulfil these duties with safety and success. * * * Nothing can be more destructive * * than the existence in the House of Commons of a leader of co-ordinate authority with the statesman who may be leading the Lords. No other result of such an arrangement can be looked for than divided councils, timid operations, distracted followers, broken ranks, constant failure."

The conclusion of the article is as follows:—

"Speaking at Manchester in 1871, by the alteration of a letter in a quotation from the Vulgate, he (Mr. Disraeli) revealed the policy which ought to guide Tory leaders at the present time:—Sanitas sanitatum, omnia sanitas. Such was the quotation, in which a careful mind will discover a scheme of social progress and reform, of dimensions so large and wide-spreading, that many volumes would not suffice to explain its details. By it is shadowed forth, and in it is embraced a social revolution which, passing by and diverting attention from wild longings for organic change, commences with the little peddling boards of health which occupy and delight the Local Government Department, comprises Lord Salisbury's plans for the amelioration of the dwellings of the poor, carries with it Lord Carnarvon's ideal of compulsory national insurance, includes Sir Wilfred Lawson's temperance propaganda, preserves and reclaims commons and open spaces, favoured by Mr. Bryce, constructs people's parks, collects and opens to the masses, museums, libraries, and art galleries does not disdain the public wash-houses of Mr. Jesse Collings. Public and private thrift must animate the whole, for it is from public thrift that the funds for these largesses can be drawn, and it is by private thrift alone that their results can be utilized and appreciated.

The expression 'Tory Democracy' has excited the wonder of some, the alarm of others, and great and bitter ridicule from the Radical party. * * * * But the 'Tory Democracy' may yet exist; the elements for its composition only require to be collected, and the labour may some day be effected by the man, whoever he may be, upon whom the mantle of Elijah has descended."

An Old English Election Dodge

It was in the year 1768, when the political pot was boiling furiously in England, and when there was much pulling and hauling throughout the realm for the securing of place and power, that the following incident occurred. The election was for two members of parliament for the borough of Berwick-on-Tweed. At the time there were living in London—engaged there for a season—several hundred non-resident freemen, so called, entitled to vote in Berwick. These London dwellers were government people, and were to vote for the friends of the premier. The two candidates of the party in power had spent large sums towards securing their return and, with the aid of their London adherents, their election was sure; and that there might be no mistake about the voting of these last named constituents, the government candidates chartered two vessels for the purpose of carrying the freemen to Berwick-on-Tweed direct by water; and, that there might be no hitch in the matter, they paid every shilling of probable and possible expense—even to the fare of the last voter. Just in the nick of time, Mr. Taylor, one of the opposition candidates, went to Lord Delaval, the other candidate, and said to him, "My lord, how much will you give me if I make our election sure?" Delaval leaped to his feet. As yet neither of them had paid out a shilling, while the other side had been pouring out their money without stint. "Anything you want," said Delaval. "Then give me £400." His lordship drew his check and gave it to Mr. Taylor, who took it to the bank and got gold for it, and then sought the owner of the two vessels which were to convey the voters to Berwick; and to that individual he offered the gold if he would simply run those two vessels full of voters over upon the coast of Norway instead of taking them direct to their true and proper destination. Whatever may have been the shipowner's political preference, he certainly was a lover of gold. He took the £400, the voters were spirited away across the North Sea, and Mr. Taylor and Lord Delaval secured their seats.—London Tid-Bit.

Lord Dunmore's Observations on the Canadian Pacific.

CHICAGO, June 4.—Charles Adolphus Murray, earl of Dunmore, of Scotland, who has been traveling over the Canadian Pacific railroad, arrived here yesterday afternoon. The road, he said, was completed to Dunmore, about twelve miles from the Saskatichoman river. The road follows the old trail of the Hudson Bay people from Quappelle to Cypress hill. South from Winnipeg to the Brandon the country is settled, and from there on to Regina farms lay one mile back on each side of the track. At Indian Head the Bell Farm company will have its first harvest this year. One furrow on this farm is four miles long. Regina has been chosen by the government of the northwest territory as its capital. The earl thinks Moose Jaw, Medicine Hat and Calgarry, at the foot of the Rocky mountains, will eclipse it in business facilities shortly. He says that last week, near Dunmore, a number of Piegan Indians came over from the American side and stampeded 112 horses, belonging to railroad contractors, which had not been recovered. Track-laying is proceeding at the rate of four miles a day. Land is being held at high figures at different points. At Regina and Winnipeg it will cost as much as in Chicago. Lord Dunmore leaves for Scotland June 27th, and will return in August.

The Arizona War.

TUCSON, A. T., June 5.—Advices to the Star from San Carlos say that Agent Wilcox has refused to allow the band of returned Apaches the privilege of the reservation and treats them as hostiles. He has turned them over to the military who hold them as prisoners of war. There are seven stout bucks, the remainder are women and children. When they reached the reservation they surrendered their ponies and gave the intelligence that they saw Charley McComas before leaving the Sierra Madre. They say he is well and safe, and that he will not be harmed. He is learning to talk Apache. The renegades knew when Crook crossed the line, and sent their children and squaws beyond the Sierra Madre. The bucks have scattered in small bands. They are most anxious to surrender but are afraid that Crook will not show them any quarter. They are terrorized since he entered Mexico. The arrival of other small bands is expected daily at San Carlos.

Port Moody.

(Columbian.)

Messrs. Logan, Kane & Co. have begun taking out railway ties. Messrs. Stafford & Clary are pushing on their new hotel at the head of the inlet, and Mr. Lafix is putting up a new store. Capt. Clarke has been notified by the engineer-in-charge not to erect any more buildings on the water's edge, as it will all be required for railway purposes. Track laying did not begin on Monday as was anticipated.

ACCIDENT.—John Breeze, a man who worked last winter at one of the city livery stables, about six weeks ago was driving a team on the Cariboo wagon road when the load, owing to some accident, was overturned, and the driver sustained an injury to his leg which afterwards turned out to be broken. He has just arrived in Victoria and during all that time his leg has remained unset; and as a natural consequence it is now seriously inflamed and ulcerated. He is at present in St. Joseph's hospital.

THE SEATTLE Post-Intelligencer says: "The ceaseless throngs of men and women on the down town streets last evening must have been a revelation to strangers in our city. They have heard of the rush and the boom here, but they have not realized it, and now that they see it it strikes them almost as if they had not before heard or thought of it."

ORANGEMEN IN COUNCIL.—The Grand Orange lodge of Canada is in session at St. Catherines, Ont. Delegates are present from all parts of the Dominion. The refusal of the Dominion government to incorporate the Orange order is one of the principal subjects under discussion.

FROM DEPARTURE BAY.—Last evening the steamer Princess Louise returned from Departure Bay with a load of coal. She went to New Westminster about a week ago, and from thence to Departure Bay, returning to New Westminster with coal, after which she again started for Departure Bay and loaded coal for Victoria.

FAST DRIVING.—To-day a number of hackmen and others will be brought up at the police court on charges of fast driving over James Bay bridge, which is not only contrary to the by-law, but in its present fragile condidition, dangerous.

QUICK TRIP.—Mr. Baker, M. P., and Mrs. Baker, and Mr. Reid, M. P., and Mrs Reid, left San Francisco on Saturday and arrived here yesterday, having made the trip via the Columbia river in four days.

WEDNESDAY, June 6.

A Stickeen Indian charged with being drunk and disorderly was fined 5s.

A white man for the same offence, was fined in a like amount.

UNLAWFUL POSSESSION.

Frederick Smith, on remand, was charged with being in possession of a loaded pistol. The prisoner pleaded guilty.

Officer Sheppard stated that on the 21st May last he arrested the prisoner at the Burnside hotel, in company with officer McLeod, for larceny. He saw McLeod take the pistol produced from his back pants' pocket; also 5 cartridges. The prisoner said he bought the pistol in San Francisco.

His honor ordered the prisoner to enter into his own recognizances to the amount of $50 for his appearance at the police court six months hence, on the 26th November; and in default of his entering into his own recognizances, he was to be imprisoned for one month at the expiration of the previous sentence.

The prisoner is at present under two sentences of 3 months each, upon two charges of larceny; one for stealing blankets, and the other for robbing the till of the Burnside hotel.

Mr. Wm. Ross has received the appointment of immigration agent, and is now making arrangements for opening an office. Mr. Ross is one of the old-time pioneers, having come to this province in 1859, and he has resided within the province continuously since that time.

Work at the Pitt river railway bridge goes on. It has been decided to drive each alternate pile 20 feet into the bottom instead of 10 feet, and the authorities hope this may stand for a while.

Nothing has yet been heard of Helme, lately lost in the woods near Langley.

The Guardian gives the following particulars of the death of E. Brown, Esq.: "This gentleman passed away in a tranquil sleep, without the slightest struggle, on Tuesday, about 3 p. m. He had, apparently, in his usual health, attended a county court case of a trivial character, and feeling unwell, returned home. Although the symptoms were of a complicated nature, it was not supposed that any immediate danger existed. He retired to bed, and subsequently conversed with some friends; the last to leave him observed that he desired to sleep. Half an hour afterwards it was found that the lamented gentleman was dead."

Marine.

The Central Pacific railroad has contracted with the Cramps for another steam collier, the counterpart of the lost Tacoma. This is necessary, as the San Pedro cannot transport coal fast enough for them.

The steamship Empire is taking in coal at Departure Bay for San Francisco.

On Saturday at noon, the steamship Dakota will leave the Victoria wharf at Shoal Point, for San Francisco.

Yesterday afternoon the steamer Alexander brought in the barque Princess Royal from London, which is moored at the Hudson Bay Co.'s wharf, where she will commence discharging cargo after the government stores are landed.

Successfully Floated.

At one o'clock yesterday morning, while the spring tide was at its highest, the tug Alexander, aided by three camels, (originally built to raise the 21st of May) made fast to the wrecked barque Connaught, lying ashore outside Esquimalt, and putting on the fullest possible strain, managed to the satisfaction of all present to haul her off into deep water. The vessel, which had been totally dismasted, was towed into Victoria harbor and made fast alongside Welch, Rithet & Co.'s wharf. She is loaded up to her 'ween decks with lumber, and it is the intention of her owners to beach her near the new mail wharf, so as to facilitate pumping her out and making all necessary repairs. Those financially interested in her are to be congratulated on the successful termination of the efforts to float her. She is comparatively a new vessel.

The Liquor Licenso Act.

This measure will go into operation on May 1st next. In so far as hotels and saloons are concerned, Victoria will be entitled to only sixteen retail licenses, all told. Grocers will have till 1890 to sell off their stocks in quantities not less than a bottle. The Municipal Council will have power to fix the rate of licenses and will probably make it $1000. All bars will be closed from 7 o'clock Saturday evening till 7 o'clock Monday morning. Upon an infraction of this regulation the license is forfeit. If gambling is allowed in a licensed house the stock and furniture as well as the license will be confiscated.

THE BARQUE ALDEN BESSE.—This vessel was towed into harbor yesterday morning and moored at Welch, Rithet & Co.'s wharf. Her lower mainmast is secured with a heavy piece of plank extending almost from the deck to the maintop. The captain states this was put on as a protection to prevent the mast from being sprung. The Alden Bess had 371 Chinese passengers.

THE B. C. PARLIAMENTARY CONTINGENT.—Senator McInnes arrived home ten days ago. Senator Macdonald and Mr. Homer returned by the mail steamer. Mr. Baker and wife, and Mr. Reid and wife came by the G. E. Starr yesterday. Mr. Gordon and Mr. Barnard will arrive by the next steamer. Senator Nelson and Mr. Shakespeare have gone to Europe.

THE Columbian, in the course of an article denying that it has any business connection with provincial secretary or The Colonist, says: "We have always believed The Colonist to be an excellent newspaper and we know that in this part of the province it has a very extensive circulation."

Drowning at Plumper Pass.

On Monday evening at 8½ o'clock, when the schooner Discovery was off Miner's Bay, Plumper Pass, she lost a man named Henry Hapstoltz overboard. The vessel being in stays he was caught by the foresail boom and knocked overboard. The master and remaining hand threw an oar and some timber overboard, and proceeded to lower a boat. Mr. Collinson, seeing the accident from shore, put off in a boat with all speed, but the unfortunate man sank beneath the rapid current before Mr. Collinson could reach him. No blame is attached to the master of the schooner who did all in his power to save the poor man.

Yale.

(Columbian.)

YALE, June 4.—Mr. Wilson, superintendent of telegraphs, is in town and fitting out a repairing party to go up the line. At no time during the present summer has Yale presented such a lively appearance as it does this morning. Front street is crowded with ox and mule teams loading for the upper country. A number of teams started out on Saturday; but teaming from Yale will stop now, as the cars are running to Boston Bar, and will carry all freight much cheaper than it could be carried by wagons.

P. O. H.—The ladies' committee P. O. H. have gratefully received during the month of May gifts of milk, vegetables and articles of useful clothing from the following kind friends: Mesdames Jack, Munro, Sargison, B. Williams, A. A. Green, Goodacre, Kurtz, Carmichael and Mr. Andean.

Eastern States.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., June 4.—The salvation army is the subject of riotous conduct in this city. Chief of Police Webster had announced his intention to arrest the members if they persisted in street singing. Last evening they marched down Chapel street singing, and a crowd on the sidewalk tried to drown their voices by singing too. The conduct of the mob to-night is worse than ever before. The army was jostled and gibed on its march from the state house steps to Union hall. When they arrived at the hall the crowd acted so boisterously that the army could barely make itself heard. Windows were broken and lights extinguished by the mob. No arrests were made and the police were not visible. Complaints will probably be made by some of the citizens in order to quell the disturbance, as it is regarded as scandalous that so much disorder should be allowed, and no attempt made on the part of the police to quell it.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., June 5.—Thomas Shields shot dead Joe G. Silton, superintendent of the Maryland & Charlotte copper mines, this morning. Shields claims that Silton seduced his sister and refused to marry her. Shields at once surrendered.

NEW YORK, June 2.—A special from Rome says: "I have reason to believe that letters were issued by a propaganda some days ago, and are now on their way to New York, summoning all American archbishops to Rome to receive papal instructions and make preparations for a provincial council of the whole American church, which is to be held next year at some town in the United States not yet designated. Although the reasons for the summons are only incidentally political, the archbishops will, of course, be required to report on the state of politico-ecclesiastical affairs in America, especially in regard to Ireland.

CHICAGO, June 5.—Hop Wing Lee's opium joint was raided by the police yesterday, and the proprietor and Mary Louis Rose D'Amour, Lee Wee Wing, Lee Ah Sue and You Kee were locked up at the station.

CHICAGO, June 5.—At 2 o'clock this morning Barnum's circus caught on fire. The fire consumed the main tent, dresses and paraphernalia. The blaze caught from one of the lamps, and the canvas was consumed like a flash. There was no loss of life. Fortunately the animals were in the tent inside the base ball park and were not injured. Had they been in the tent that was burned there would have been a considerable number of wild beasts roaming about the streets now. The loss is not learned.

NEW YORK, June 5.—On May 23rd the artificial flower factory at 190 Green street, owned by Mrs. Louis Guideau, a French woman, 62 years old, was destroyed by fire. Mrs. Guideau ran up stairs when the fire broke out and warned the workmen and other occupants. She alone failed to escape and was much praised for her heroic selfsacrifice. At the coroner's inquest to-day it was learned that she had tried to induce two of her workmen to burn the house to obtain the insurance. She was financially embarrassed. It is now believed that, failing to induce the workmen to fire the building, she did so herself.

ROCHESTER, June 4.—Courtney accepted the offer of a manufacturing company, and will give bonds in the sum of $10,000 to row his best in a race with Hanlan for a purse of $5000. It is probable that the race will be rowed at Cincinnatti or St. Louis.

NEW YORK, June 4.—The Sun attacks the Young Men's Christian Association as one of the most powerful organizations of this city, and says: "We sent a reporter to interview Rev. Dr. Potter, of the Sixth ward Baptist church, who a month ago declared in the Baptist ministers' conference that the grandest humbug in New York is the association palace, corner Twenty-third street and Fourth avenue. He now describes the Y. M. C. A. as a great, splendid, aristocratic organization, which gets from young men $5, and gives them the worth of their money in a bowling alley, library and gymnasium, takes away his religious workers and does incalculable harm to the church. He tells some amusing stories, one about the distribution in his church of cards having the association advertisement on one side and the advertisement of a sewing machine on the other. It would really appear as though Rev. Potter proposed to make it hot for the Y. M. C. A.

California.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5.—Arrangements are completed by which the running time between Omaha and San Francisco is reduced 14 hours—11 on the Union Pacific and three on the Central Pacific—from July 1st. This applies only to westward bound trains.

Mrs. Elizabeth Larrabee sues the Southern Pacific railroad for $25,000 for personal injuries in the collision in Alameda county last month. Mrs. Larrabee was on her way south to gather evidence in her suit against the Central Pacific railroad for $50,000 damages for the death of her husband killed at Tehachapi last January.

The growth of the fruit canning industry is apparent in the incorporation of a company for the manufacture of fruit cans, with a capital stock of $250,000.

The bank of Crocker, Woolworth & Co. is now open for business. The firm members are Charles Crocker and his son William, and R. C. Woolworth, late president of the First National Gold Bank of San Francisco.

The temperature is 92 degrees, the warmest day in this city since June 12, 1876, when it was 93.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The wrestling match this evening between Muldoon, the champion of America, who beat the Scotch champion, Donald Dinnie and Jules Rigal, champion of France, terminated in another victory for Muldoon.

Our Weekly Melange from the French Capital.

(Special Correspondence of The Colonist.)

7 RUE ROYALE, Paris, April 28th.

CONVICTS FOR THE PACIFIC.

According to an official report on the subject of habitual criminals prepared for the French Parliament, it would seem that the number has risen, within the last twenty four years, from 34,000 to 81,000. During the last judicial year for which accounts have been made up, 25 per cent. of the persons arrested were habitual criminals, the number located in Paris aggregating about 14,000. The principal idea of the law now under discussion in the French Parliament dealing with habitual criminals is to create in New Caledonia, the New Hebrides, and other islands in the Pacific Ocean, a number of French penal settlements. It was fear of this that made Australians pounce upon New Guinea the other day.

GERMANS IN PARIS.

German papers state the number of the German inhabitants of Paris to be, in round numbers, 110,000, thus making the French metropolis the fifteenth largest German city in point of population. Of the above number, 70,000 belong to the German Empire, the remainder were Austrians, Swiss, Alsatians, German-Russians and German-Americans.

EXPENSIVE ORDNANCE.

A new French gun is twenty nine feet six inches long, weighs fifty tons and cost $120,000. It is wire wound and is expected to put a ball through fifteen inches of armor, heavier than any on our monitors, at a distance of seven and a half miles.

CARNIVOROUS EUROPEANS.

The average Englishman eats 109 pounds of meat per year, while the average meat production of Great Britain per inhabitant is but sixty-nine pounds, including thirty-four pounds of beef, twenty-nine of mutton and six of pork, hence forty per cent. of the meat supply must be imported. The consumption of meat in the United Kingdom is much larger than in any part of Europe. Neither France, Germany nor Belgium raise meat enough to supply their own populations.

STREET LIGHTING.

Paris consumes 270,000,000 cubic metres of gas yearly. To light up London 570,000,000 cubic metres are required for the same length of time.

PORT COMPETITION.

The strike among the dock porters and among the engineers and stokers of steamers at Marseilles, now happily settled, was becoming daily more disastrous for the immediate interests of ship-owners, whilst there was not wanting intelligent opinion that it might prove a permanent injury to the port. For at least a fortnight the efforts to come to an arrangement were fruitless and the result was that vessels ready to take in cargoes awaiting them on the quays were obliged to sail in ballast, whilst those arriving were compelled to keep their cargoes on board, thus opening up the question of demurrage, and in some cases cargoes consisting of produce that will not keep have been thrown overboard. If the result of the strike is that vessels trading to Marseilles have to pay much heavier charges for shipping and unshipping cargoes, owners will most certainly seek ports which present greater advantages in this respect, and equal one in the matter of facilities for internal transport. Among such ports Genoa will from its position become the most formidable competitor. During the Franco-Prussian war the Italian port carried off much of the commerce of Marseilles, and although the latter has since that period assumed something of its old supremacy in the trade of the Mediterranean, yet it now stands in danger of furnishing its rivals with weapons which will most effectually turn against its vital interests.

GUNPOWDER EXPLOSION.

A great explosion took place on Sunday evening in a powder magazine, containing 3000 kilogrammes, at Chamas, near Marseilles. Fortunately only one person was killed.

REBUILDING NICE JETTY.

The inquiry into the cause of the burning of the Jettée Promenade at Nice has not revealed any carelessness on the part of the workmen, nor that it was started maliciously. The true cause, however, still remains doubtful and probably will not be found. It is satisfactory to notice that the company has determined to recommence work immediately, and to take the greatest precautions against the repetition of such an occurrence as the late fire.

SPONTANEOUS ART.

Among the fifty selected candidates for the royal college of music, it is remarkable that among them are (in singing) a mill girl whose wages are $2 a week, and hours from 6 a.m. to 7:30 p. m.; a young young blacksmith, and the daughter of a brickmaker; and in violin playing, the son of a farm laborer. There are only eight the children of musicians or persons connected with music.

TONQUIN FOR THE FRENCH.

At a cabinet council held in Paris on 24th inst., it was decided to send an expeditionary force to Tonquin, consisting of 1500 men, and to apply to the chamber for a credit of 5,000,000 francs, for "protecting the rights of France in Tonquin."

FINANCIAL.

In the French chambers the government bill for the conversion of the five per cent. rentes was agreed to by 400 to 107.

ENCOURAGING TALENT.

A literary convention between France and Germany for the protection of authors' rights, has just been signed at Berlin.

FOREIGNERS IN FRANCE.

England with twenty-seven million inhabitants, has only one hundred and forty thousand residents of foreign birth; Germany with forty-five millions, only two hundred and seventy thousand; while France, with thirty-seven million four hundred thousand, has more than a million. There has been an increase of two hundred thousand during the last five years.

AN ITEM FOR THE LADIES.

The Parisians are credited with having found out how to make false eyelashes. They draw a fine needle threaded with dark hair through the skin of the eyelid, forming long loops, and after the process is over—it is said to be a painless one—a splendid dark fringe veils the wearer's eyes. L. L. D.

The China-Victoria Line.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 4.—The arrival of the British steamer Glenelg from Victoria, after having made the voyage to that port from Hongkong via Honolulu, has revived the question of establishing an independent line from China to British Columbia. Captain Speechy, when questioned relative to the probabilities of such an occurrence, said the vessel, though owned in England, as is also the tramp T. C. Hook, had been chartered in Hongkong on private account for the purpose, as he understood the proposition, with a view of ascertaining whether it would be profitable to the charterers to establish such a line Personally, he entertained no doubt but it could be made to pay handsomely, especially as the Hawaiian government places no embargo on the importation of coolies. Up to this point the cruise was highly successful, and he saw no reason to apprehend a diminution in freights between here and Honolulu and Hongkong. He also stated that much would depend on the final summing up, though it had already been demonstrated that such a line would be remunerative, and for this reason he believed the vessel would be ultimately chartered for that purpose. The last trip of the T. C. Hook netted a good profit.

A LADY writes to London Truth from Australia thus:—"I constantly see in the papers sent me from England accounts of strange enquiries put by servants to their employers. While arranging with a cook some time ago I had a most extraordinary request made to me. The woman asked if she might bring her baby, which, she added hastily, would be no trouble, as it was pickled. It turned out that the poor little scrap was born and had died while its father was absent on a voyage, from which he never returned. The mother, anxious to preserve the remains, and being ignorant of any other method, pickled the infant. She became so attached to her dead child in this state that she objected to be without it. I confess I felt a sympathy for her, and granted her request. I have never regretted it; she is a capital servant, and her poor little relic is quite unobjectionable. I feel sure your readers will view with horror the idea of such an inmate—yet, when rich people incur vast expense to embalm, and even to cremate their dead, great sympathy is often felt for them, and no repugnance shown towards the expensive remains. My poor cook felt all the sentiment of wishing to have her beloved dead. Was it her fault that her way of having it was necessarily cheap and original?"

THE FRENCH BALSAM OF HONEY is especially adapted for coughs and colds in this climate. It never fails. Only 50 cents a bottle. None genuine unless a beehive and the name of Moore & Co., Yates street, Victoria, B. C., is on each bottle. dw

THOUSANDS have used Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure and willingly have testified to the immediate relief it gives after a few doses in Kidney troubles, and how a few bottles always effect a permanent cure. No one can afford to be without it. 1w

As the wintry frosts disappear before the rising sun, so do Kidney Diseases leave the body when Dr. Van Buren's Kidney Cure is faithfully taken according to directions. As your druggist for it. w1m
